Scripture Reading Psalm 90

Lord, you have been our dwelling-place in all generations.
Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever you had formed the earth and the world, from everlasting to everlasting you are God.
So teach us to count our days that we may gain a wise heart.

You turn us back to dust, and say, 'Turn back, you mortals.'
For a thousand years in your sight are like yesterday when it is past, or like a watch in the night.
You sweep them away; they are like a dream, like grass that is renewed in the morning; in the morning it flourishes and is renewed; in the evening it fades and withers.
So teach us to count our days that we may gain a wise heart.

The days of our life are seventy years, or perhaps eighty, if we are strong; even then their span is only toil and trouble; they are soon gone, and we fly away.
Who considers the power of your anger? Your wrath is as great as the fear that is due to you.

So teach us to count our days that we may gain a wise heart.

Turn, O Lord! How long? Have compassion on your servants!
Satisfy us in the morning with your steadfast love, so that we may rejoice and be glad all our days.

Make us glad for as many days as you have afflicted us, and for as many years as we have seen evil.

Let your work be manifest to your servants, and your glorious power to their children.
Let the favor of the Lord our God be upon us, and prosper for us the work of our hands. O prosper the work of our hands!

So teach us to count our days that we may gain a wise heart.

GRACE CENTER (FELLOWSHIP HALL, NORTH SIDE)—New book study: “What We Talk About When We Talk About God”. Bestselling author and pastor Rob Bell (“Love Wins”) tackles the question of how to make our concept of God relevant to ourselves and the world in which we live. As more people today turn their backs on a God who seems mean, primitive, and at odds with scientific truth, Bell shows how we can reconnect with a God who is “with us, for us, and ahead of us, pulling us forward into a better future”. Come and join in the discussion!

Intersections is looking for writers! Interested? Contact Todd.

Feb. 3, 12:30 p.m.: Parent-Youth Planning Committee Luncheon, YA Café. We look forward to your participation. Start thinking now of the types of events you would like for your child, as well as opening up your home to being a host.
