Scripture Reading Mark 6:1-6 Sandra Peterson

Jesus left there and went to his hometown, accompanied by his disciples. When the Sabbath came, he began to teach in the synagogue, and many who heard him were amazed.

“Where did this man get these things?” they asked. “What’s this wisdom that has been given him? What are these remarkable miracles he is performing? Isn’t this the carpenter? Isn’t this Mary’s son and the brother of James, Joseph, Judas and Simon? Aren’t his sisters here with us?” And they took offense at him.

Jesus said to them, “A prophet is not without honor except in his own town, among his relatives and in his own home.” He could not do any miracles there, except lay his hands on a few sick people and heal them. He was amazed at their lack of faith.

“We Have This Hope” (No. 214, *Wayne Hooper)

(1) We have this hope that burns within our hearts, hope in the coming of the Lord
We have this faith that Christ alone imparts, faith in the promise of his word.
We believe the time is here, when the nations far and near
Shall awake, and shout, and sing “Hallelujah! Christ is King!”
We have this hope that burns within our hearts, hope in the coming of the Lord.

(2) We are united in in our risen Lord, we are united in his love.
Love for the waiting people of the world, people who need our Savior’s love.
Soon the heav’ns will open wide, Christ will come to claim his bride,
All the universe will sing “Hallelujah! Christ is King!”
We have this hope, this faith, and God’s great love. We are united in our Lord.

Benediction (Please be seated after the benediction)

WHAT ARE CAMP MEETINGS?: "A series of meetings held for a number of days [often 10], generally in a rural or semirural setting, with provision for encampment on the grounds; a type of meeting now peculiar to the Seventh-day Adventist Church and a few other denominations. Camp meetings are held in various sections of the world, usually annually, and at times when the weather is suitable for such occasions.... Camp meetings originated among the Presbyterians in Kentucky in the early years of the nineteenth century and later flourished especially among the Methodists. SDA camp meetings began in 1868, five years after the General Conference was incorporated in 1863. The background for the SDA gatherings was in the Millerite camp meetings of 1842-1844, in which both James White and Joseph Bates, early leaders of the SDA Church, had participated, and in similar meetings held by the Methodist Church with notable success.... Steering away from the basically evangelistic nature of the nineteenth-century camp meetings, SDAs today tend more and more to utilize these yearly sectional gatherings as spiritual meetings for the church members, though not ignoring opportunities for neighborhood evangelism." — The Seventh-day Adventist Encyclopedia
